1.2 Summary of the Action

In Malawi, the mostly rural population, women, youth and disadvantaged groups are still insufficiently associated to decision-making, and mechanisms ensuring transparency, accountability and rule of law remain to be strengthened. This has contributed to a certain degree of disillusionment, a low level of citizen participation, disengagement and lack of ownership of civil affairs, resulting in stagnated socio-economic development and multi-dimensional poverty.

The overall objective of the Action is to contribute to strengthening democratic governance and the social contract in Malawi. Through this Action, and across all its results, the EU and the Government of Malawi aim to influence positive change in the outlook of democracy in the country, while strengthening the social contract.
